  - SJR8 – Local Land Use & Zoning Reform Pilot Program: Directs DSHA to create a pilot program to support local zoning reform efforts. The program will provide technical assistance to interested municipalities to modernize their zoning and land use codes, to develop a greater variety of housing types, promote compact, mixed-use development, and address affordability challenges. DSHA received applications from municipalities to participate and accepted nine jurisdictions. The jurisdictions include: Bridgeville, Dover, Georgetown, Laurel, Lewes, Milford, Newark, and Sussex County. The deadline for an RFP for technical assistance providers was last Friday, November 14th. DSHA will review the TA proposals and identify one or multiple TA providers to work with these jurisdictions.

- PHA Streamlining: DSHA is finalizing an agreement with AffordableHousing.com to digitize the Request for Tenancy Approval process and conduct rent reasonableness evaluations for all five Public Housing Authorities over three years, using one-time FY25 state funds. All PHAs and consultants have aligned the short-term implementation steps as of October 27. Director Heckles will meet with Senator Lockman and the Delaware Apartment Association to formally confirm implementation, after which DSHA will publish a notice in the Register of Regulations. This action will clear the way for Delaware's new source-of-income protections for voucher holders to take effect on January 1, 2026. On November 20, PHAs and consultants will present these updates to the Delaware Apartment Association as part of ongoing landlord outreach efforts.
- HB 70 – Lead Remediation: The Lead Remediation Committee held its first meeting on October 29 with full attendance and will reconvene on December 4. In the meantime, the committee is continuing to collect data on pre-1978 rental units and develop the information required under the bill.
- EO8 - The Delaware Interagency Collaborative to End Homelessness: The Interagency Collaborative to End Homelessness has continued to meet regularly, advancing its recommendations and preparing a final report expected in November. Across its sessions, members have aligned on three priorities: reaching people where they are through better outreach and coordinated intake processes, expanding emergency shelter and navigation by establishing HOPE Centers in Kent and Sussex Counties, and enhancing exit strategies through creating permanent supportive housing and expanding SRAP. Public listening sessions have been held at multiple community locations – including the Food Bank of Delaware, Harington Public Library, and Redemption City in Seaford.

DSHA Statewide Emergency Repair Program (SERP)

Delaware State Housing Authority (“DSHA”) has supported emergency repair grants to non-profit and community development grantees for over 20 years through the Housing Development Fund (HDF) and the Federal Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) program. In 2016, DSHA met with entities and agencies that provide emergency repair services and/or funding to assess the effectiveness of the state’s owner-occupied repair and emergency repair programs. DSHA’s goals were to assess what DSHA can do to best respond to the increasing needs; identify potential improvements to resource allocation and utilization; and improve program coordination. DSHA concluded and recognized the need for a more efficient state-wide emergency repair program as a way to meet these goals. This exercise resulted in DSHA creating the Statewide Emergency Repair Program (SERP), which made available HDF funding for emergency repairs to low-income, owner-occupied housing units that address an emergency condition threatening the health or safety of the occupants.

Three years ago, DSHA expanded SERP to $1.5MM per year for three years (a total of $4.5MM), with up to $500,000 per county per year awarded to the selected provider for each county. Currently Milford Housing Development Corp (MHDC) serves as the provider for all counties.
